The ages are separated to allow us to teach more age appropriate fundamentals and more importantly, to keep the coach to player ratio small for safety and instructional purposes. My goal is to make this a worthwhile event for the players as well as for the parents and coaches of these players. Our primary method of teaching is through drills, many of which are appropriate at any age and ability level. As a staff, we hope that these drills, once their purpose is explained, can be taken home or to the practice field to continue the campers' development.
