HELPFUL COACHING GAME TIME HINTS

Please take these as my learned experiences coaching little ones. Take what the ones u like and ignore the one that you don't:

- 1) Some of players are so small the uniform pants don't fit. Academy sells pants for around $10. As long as all white they will match the team.
- 2) Keeping the players gear together can be trying. Some teams make baskets/buckets with players name and place them by bench. Also making name signs (Laminated) that can attach to fence. Put them in order of batting line up. I try to get kids early to be responsible for their own gear. Its a lagniappe that it makes parents happy.
- 3) T-batters. Put the fastest kids at the front and end of batting order. Last batter gets to run all the bases. I like to bat 1-9 first inning then 9-1 second and then back 1-9 for final inning.
- 4) I ask my team to be there 30 minutes before game in Uniform. This never fully happens but does help get them there on time. Games should start promptly as possible.
- 5) Parents want to help but sometimes don't know how. You have to let them know. Having snacks at end of the game is an easy parent thing to do. Relieve yourself of that duty early. Let the parents sort out details. You should not have to think about it.
- 6) After each game have a brief discussion with the team and give out game ball to someone who played well. But be mindful to clear dugout and field as soon as possible so next team can get in. Parents like to hear the pep talk. If you do it near the bleachers or sidelines invite them to listen.
- 7) Generally Home team sets up and Visitors tear down. Of course depends if you are first or last game on the schedule. Make sure to pick up trash after each game..
- 8) If parents complain about game or playing time... be gentle. If they complain too much direct them to the Player-Agent.
- 9) For my team I have strict uniform policy-- Hats or helmets while on field, jersey etc... I think its part of the tradition of the game. That said I don't enforce it.
- 10) Have a bench coach- A kid wrangler. Getting helmets and bats, gloves and hats is a stress u should put on someone else. T-ball coaches will be at the tee and CP coaches on the mound so imperative you have a good wrangler. Give them a batting order and let them get them in order. Allows you to coach.

11) T-ball- I tell kids first one out of dugout with all their equipment on and ready gets the prime positions. I usually works out.

12) T-ball and CP- Don't stress. We are all are still trying get kids to run to the right base. As long as they are having fun we as coaches are doing our jobs.
