

AVON JUNIOR ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

What happens if AJAA has to cancel the Fall Season due to COVID-19?

These are very different times we are experiencing right now with a global pandemic. AJAA is dedicated to the health of our community and members, and is watching closely to all the developments and listening to advice from health experts both locally and nationally.

At this point we are moving forward with Fall programs. That being said, it's very hard to guarantee anything, however if there is a change in status for our state, we would likely treat Fall sports just the same as the direction given from our Board of Directors for Spring programs. That would include members to receive credits for future registrations, or cash refunds based on where we are at with the Fall season

As a side note, AJAA has already made investments into the Fall seasons and the operation of our organization and facilities for those seasons. AJAA is a membership-based organization in which each family who registers is a member that contributes to the success of this 501c3 non-profit organization.
