Peter's Coaching Philosophy

As a coach, I tend to ask myself how I can help my team be successful? Success is not always winning because even when you lose, you win by learning about yourself as a team, player and coach.

I hope to teach the basics of the game and help the young athletes love and respect the game and everything that the sport of soccer brings to them. Apart from the skills of the game, I want the young athletes to use sportsmanship, respect perseverance and communication in and outside of the field.

As a coach, I expect to lead by example and make the game of soccer fun for the young athletes.
