Ridgefield Park Soccer Association

In 1984, the Ridgefield Park Soccer Association was formed because its founders wanted to improve and expand the program more than the Board of Recreation had the ability to do. The colors of Blue and White were decided by president Jim Mckeown to separate the program from the Board of Rec. These colors have remained ever since.

The association built a strong and steadily growing program in the community and developed a travel program to accommodate players looking for a more competitive environment and looking to advance their soccer careers.
