

Good Afternoon,

I am writing this email with a heavy heart and I am sad to say that we will be cancelling the little league camp this summer (both weeks). With a lot of things up in the air and parameters from CDC and the state of Virginia, it is best to not host camp. These two weeks I look forward to each and every year that I have helped with them because I get to see excitement and joy radiating from the campers to just be at baseball camp. They want to have fun playing a great game, and it's awesome to get back to the roots of our game.

Our season was cancelled and was a huge hit to our players but mostly our seniors who missed out on their final year of playing baseball, maybe last time every stepping on to a field. At the start of our season I challenged our players that every time the stepped foot onto the field to "play like it was opening day". Ironically we didn't get one but up to that point they had brought the energy at practice. I challenge you to pass this message onto your child and remind them of how precious our time is on the field. I know some are very young, but I felt compelled to share that with you adults.

A sadness is coming from some of my JV players because they didn't get to participate in their first "Opening Day" for the little league as a high school baseball player. Most had said they were looking forward to seeing the little leaguers on their special day.

Please don't let this discourage you from signing up in the future as we love to have campers each and every year. If you have any questions please don't hesitate to reach out.

Thanks,
